I. SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

A proof of claim may be deemed timely upon a showing of excusable neglect and lack of prejudice to the Debtors. In this case, Movant was hospitalized and incapacitated at the time of the fire. Movant was unaware of the bar date after losing his mobile home and personal belongings in the 2018 Camp Fire. The debilitating grief and logistical demands of reestablishing his life while dealing with his incapacitation overwhelmed this movant, ultimately preventing him from timely filing a proof of claim. Because his claim is a consequence of excusable neglect, there is no danger of prejudice to the Debtors, and the claim was made in good faith, this Motion should be granted to allow Stephen Killough to have his claim deemed timely.

II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. Movants' Claims Arising from Camp Fire

Creditor Stephen Killough ("Killough") lived on 6484 Simon Way, Paradise, CA. Killough purchased his mobile home in 2003. Killough is a survivor of the Camp Fire that burned through his hometown of Paradise within a matter of hours. On October 8, 2018, Killough was incapacitated at Feather River Hospital in Paradise, CA. Feather River Hospital evacuated over a hundred patients and employees on the day of the fire, including Killough who was transported to Kaiser Hospital in Southern California. After the fire, Killough remained incapacitated in Southern California. Killough suffered from severe emotional distress as a result of losing his mobile home, personal belongings, identify, and the life he had prior to the fire. This emotional distress was only compounded by his incapacitation at the time of the fire. See Declaration of Uzair Saleem ("Saleem Decl.")

In the aftermath of the fire, Killough completely lost his mobile home, two vehicles, personal belongings, and his sense of identity. Overwhelmed with the debilitating psychological trauma and logistical demands of reestablishing his life, while dealing with his hospitalization, Killough was never informed of, or became aware of the bar date. See ("Saleem Decl.")

III. LEGAL ARGUMENT

In Chapter 11 proceedings, bankruptcy courts have broad discretion to accept late filings, including proofs of claim, where tardiness is the consequence of "excusable neglect." Fed. R.

Bank. Pro. 9006(b)(1). This standard is "flexible," and permits the Court to allow "late filings caused by inadvertence, mistake, or carelessness, as well as by intervening circumstances beyond the party's control." Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs. Ltd. P'ship, 507 U.S. 380, 389 (1993). Where the party's delay is caused by overwhelming personal distress, a late filing may be allowed on grounds of excusable neglect. See e.g., In re Nw. Territorial Mint, LLC, No. AP 16 1217-CMA, 2018 WL 6187762, at *5 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. Nov. 27, 2018) ("Excusable neglect can include sudden death, disability or illness of counsel, a close family member of counsel, or . . . the party."); In re Schultz, 254 B.R. 149, 154 (B.A.P. 6th Cir. 2000) (same); TCI Group Life Ins. Plan v. Knoebber, 244 F.3d 691, 699 (9th Cir. 2001) (excusable neglect where party was experiencing extreme personal difficulties and was "distraught") (overruled on other grounds); Comm. for Idaho's High Desert, Inc. v. Yost, 92 F.3d 814, 824 (9th Cir. 1996) (holding that "compelling circumstances" in one's personal life may constitute excusable neglect).

The test for excusable neglect is "at bottom an equitable [inquiry]." *Pioneer Inv. Servs.*Co., 507 U.S. at 395. Courts in the Ninth Circuit generally examine four (4) factors in their analysis: (i) the danger of prejudice to the non-movant, (ii) the length of delay and its potential impact on the judicial proceedings, (iii) the reason for the delay, and (iv) whether the movant acted in good faith. See id. Each of these four factors weighs heavily in favor of Killough. Accordingly, his late proof of claim should be deemed timely.

First, Killough's claim will not prejudice PG&E, there is no danger of prejudice here. The value of the Killough claim is marginal relative to the Debtors' estates and the allowance of that claim will not disrupt the reorganization or distribution process. Debtors' estates are solvent, and all creditors stand to be paid. See, e.g., In re Best Payphones, Inc., 523 B.R. 54, 75-6 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2015) and In re Sheehan Mem'l Hosp., 507 B.R. 802, 803 (Bankr. W.D.N.Y. 2014) (where the chapter 11 estate is solvent, "the proper remedy for a late filing is not the expungement of a claim, but its allowance as a tardily filed claim only.).

Second, despite the late filing, the Killough claim will have essentially zero impact on the judicial proceedings and will not change PG&E's reorganization process. There are tens of thousands of similarly situated claimants as Killough and his claim will be placed among them,

IV. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, this Motion should be granted and Stephen Killough's claim should be deemed timely.

resulting in no noticeable impact upon the distribution process. See e.g., In re Dix, 95 B.R. 134, 138 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1988) (allowing proof of claim filed two-years late because "there is no indication [of] a negative impact on efficient court administration"); In re Earth Rock, Inc., 153 B.R. at 63 (finding excusable neglect where eight-month delay would not impact reorganization proceedings).

Third, the totality of the factual circumstances in Killough's survival warrants excusable neglect. At the time of the Camp Fire, Killough was hospitalized and incapacitated at Feather River Hospital in Paradise, CA. Feather River Hospital evacuated over a hundred patients and employees on the day of the fire, including Killough who was transported to Kaiser Hospital in Southern California. After the fire, Killough remained incapacitated. Killough suffered from severe emotional distress as a result of losing his mobile home, personal belongings, identify, and the life he had prior to the fire. This emotional distress was only compounded by his incapacitation at the time of the fire.

Overwhelmed with his loss and debilitating psychological trauma, he was forced to grapple with the logistical demands of reestablishing his life. During this process, Killough was never informed of or became aware of the bar date. Understandably, he was preoccupied with trying to recover and piece his life back together. See ("Saleem Decl.") See e.g., Comm. for Idaho's High Desert, Inc. v. Yost, 92 F.3d 814, 824 (9th Cir. 1996) ("compelling circumstances" in one's personal life may constitute excusable neglect).

Ultimately, Killough's claim was made in good faith. Overwhelmed by his staggering loss and trying to manage the logistical challenges of recreating his life while dealing with his incapacitation, Killough was not represented by counsel until after the bar date and did not have the time or opportunity to comprehend filing a claim in the bankruptcy for his loss. Had he been informed or aware of the bar date, he would have timely filed a proof of claim.

Instructions for Proof of Claim (Fire Claim Related)

United States Bankruptcy Court

You may have a claim against the Debtors for monetary loss, personal injury (including death), or other asserted damages arising out of or related to a fire. You should consider obtaining the advice of an attorney, especially if you are unfamiliar with the chapter 11 process and privacy regulations.

A person who files a fraudulent claim could be fined up to $500,000, imprisoned for up to 5 years, or both. 18 U.S.C. §§ 152, 157 and 3571.

How to fill out this form

- Fill in all of the information about the claim as of the date this claim form is filed.
- If the claim has been acquired from someone else, then state the identity of the last party who owned the claim or was the holder of the claim and who transferred it to you before the initial claim was filed.
- For a minor child, fill in only the child's initials and the full name of the child's parent or guardian. For example, write A.B., a minor child (John Doe, parent). See Bankruptcy Rule 9037.
- You may but are not required to attach supporting documents to this form.
 - Supporting documents will be gathered, maintained, and provided at a later date as instructed by the Court. If you do attach documents, you should attach redacted documents as supporting documentation will be made publicly available and will not be kept confidential. See the definition of redaction of information below.
- Do not attach original documents because attachments may be destroyed after scanning.
- Question 3. Members of a family may but are not required to file a proof of claim as a family but may, if they choose, submit individual claim forms for each family member that has a claim against the debtors.

- Question 9. If you suffered property damage, then provide the street address of each real property parcel where you suffered property damage. If you were personally evacuated as the result of a fire, then provide the address or intersection closest to where you encountered the fire and began evacuation. If you suffered property damage and were evacuated from a different location, include both. If you were a renter, provide the address of your residence.
- Question 10. This question requests general statements of underlying facts relating to harm and is not intended to be exhaustive or preclusive.
- Question 11. You are not required to include a claim amount with your proof of claim. Providing a claim amount at this time is optional.

Confirmation that the claim has been filed

To receive confirmation that the claim has been filed, enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and a copy of this form together with the original. You may view a list of filed claims in this case by visiting the Claims and Noticing Agent's website at https://restructuring.primeclerk.com/pge.

Understand the terms used in this form

Claim: A creditor's right to receive payment for a debt that the debtor owed on the date the debtor filed for bankruptcy. 11 U.S.C. §101 (5). A claim may be secured or unsecured.

Creditor: A person, corporation, or other entity to whom a debtor owes a debt that was incurred on or before the date the debtor filed for bankruptcy. 11 U.S.C. § 101 (10).

Debtor: A person, corporation, or other entity who is in bankruptcy. In this instance, PG&E Corporation and Pacific Gas & Electric Company.

Information that is entitled to privacy: A Proof of Claim form and any attached documents must show only the last 4 digits of any social security number, an individual's tax identification number, or a financial account number, only the initials of a minor's name, and only the year of any person's date of birth. If a claim is based on delivering health care goods or services, limit the disclosure of the goods or services to avoid embarrassment or disclosure of confidential health care information. You may later be required to give more information if the trustee or someone else in interest objects to the claim.

Proof of claim: A form that shows the creditor has a claim against the debtors on or before the date of the bankruptcy filing (in these cases, January 29, 2019). The form must be filed in the district where the case is pending.

Redaction of information: Masking, editing out, or deleting certain information to protect privacy. Filers must redact or leave out information entitled to privacy on the Proof of Claim form and any attached documents.

Offers to purchase a claim

Certain entities purchase claims for an amount that is less than the face value of the claims. These entities may contact creditors offering to purchase their claims. Some written communications from these entities may easily be confused with official court documentation or communications from the debtor. These entities do not represent the bankruptcy court, the bankruptcy trustee, or the debtor. A creditor has no obligation to sell its claim. However, if a creditor decides to sell its claim, any transfer of that claim is subject to Bankruptcy Rule 3001(e), any provisions of the Bankruptcy Code (11 U.S.C. § 101 et seq.) that apply, and any orders of the bankruptcy court that apply.
